GUNTUN TEAM, PICKED BY MANY TO WIN SUNDAY SCHOOL LEAGUE PENNANT

GEORGETOWN WON
HOLLOW VICTORY
FROM OLD RIVAL

George Washington Unable to Connect With Drennan's Delivery.

SCORED ONLY ON ERRORS

Misplays Responsible for Score of 13 to 3—Hart and Larkin Make Homers.

Georgetown easily defeated George Washington yesterday afternoon on Georgetown Field by 13 to 3. George Washington would have been shut out but for two errors in the seventh inning. While the score was one-sided the game was interesting throughout, both sides making several good plays, but there was nothing sensational in the fielding. Drennan's masterly pitching was too much for the Buff and Blue, most of the batters going out on easy flies or grounders to the infield.

Smith a Shortstop.

Howard Smith, the little freshman, who held down third base in Captain Morgan's absence, played his first game at shortstop, and demonstrated to the satisfaction of his friends that he can play that position just as well as he can third. He made three fine stops and throws to first. Captain Morgan showed just a little lack of form, making two errors. White played well in right field, pulling down three flies. Behind the bat, Hub Hart was master of the situation, but close to him was Weber, of the Buff and Blue. Weber is a fine catcher, being particularly good at coaching the pitcher.

Bruce Bielaski did the best work for Georgetown. The only trouble with Bielaski is that he tries to cover too much ground. One of his errors was on a fly in center field, which Price could have captured with ease. Bradley did good work on first base.

Two Homers. Hart and Larkin both made home runs, putting the sphere over the bag in about the same place. Hub led his team with the stick, getting three hits. Asquith was the only member of the George Washington team who hit Drennan effectively. If all of the Buff and Blue men had batted as well as he, a different story would probably have been told.

George Washington was minus the services of Hutchinson, its star southpaw, who was unavoidably detained in the city. Joe Holland started in to pitch, and did fairly well until the seventh inning. Captain Stevenson made a big mistake in not putting Thomas in the box at this point. Thomas pitched the last inning, and retired the Blue and Gray on four thrown balls, pop flies resulting from his puzzling shots.

Drennan did not allow a hit until the sixth inning, when Asquith lined out a beauty to left field. This boy got two of the hits made by the downtown collegians.

Two in Seventh.

The scores of George Washington were made in the seventh inning. Price, the first man up in this round, went out at first on a fast play by Smith. Bradley drew a pass to first, and when Stevenson hit to Scheller the latter tried for a double play, by touching Bradley and throwing to first, but when he touched the swiftly-moving Hatchette, the ball was knocked out of his hand, and both were safe. Bruce Bielaski then banged a clean drive to center, and Bradley scored. Stevenson

IT'S ACTUALLY TRUE;
BEAT CHAMPS AGAIN

Naughty Nationals Pushed 'Em Still Farther in the Soup by 4 to 2---Knoll the Star---Hits.

BOSTON, Mass., April 29.—Washington again defeated the world's champions here today, in a most interesting game, by 4 to 2.

Dame Fortune continued to favor the Nationals with her most benignant smile, but the greater share of the credit of the victory was due to timely hitting on the part of the weaker hitters of the team, and to exceptional fielding.

Chased Bill Dineen.

Bill Dineen, who was never a cold-weather pitcher, started off in the box for Boston, and did not last through two innings. Two doubles and a single in the second sent him to the stable, and Gibson took his place. The Nationals gained a handicap of three runs in the first two innings, and this proved to be an insurmountable barrier for the champions to overcome.

Gibson, who relieved Dineen, was wild as a hawk, but the Nationals were never able to take advantage of his erratic work, even when in the sixth inning he filled the bases with passes, with only one out.

In fact, in only one inning did they get any hits off the Peoria lad, and then they scored a run on successive doubles by Knoll and Kittredge. Jacobsen pitched good ball consistently from start to finish, but he owed a great deal to his fielders, especially to Knoll, whose outfielding was the feature of the game.

Rah for Knoll!

He made a diving play and blocked the hottest kind of a hit from Grimshaw's bat that would have been a sure home run had he not taken this long chance. As Freeman was on the base at the time it can be readily seen what an important factor the little outfielder's nerve was in the game.

Again in the eighth inning Selbach batted the ball to right center for a prospective three-bagger, and Knoll by splendid judgment and hard running pulled the fly down brilliantly. Hill and Jones are also to be credited with high class ball playing. Cassidy, Knoll, and Kittredge did all the batting for the Nationals, and Kittredge drove in two runs and was largely responsible for another with his timely two-bagger.

Captain Collins made a shift in his team by benching LaChance and giving Grimshaw a trial on first base. The Buffalo recruit covered his bag well and his one hit was such a sensational drive by reason of the power behind it that he made a good impression.

Lou Criger was also back in the game, though not in the best condition. The Champions displayed a great deal of ginger, and the only real blemish on their playing was Parent's carelessness in being caught off third base, when Hill had the ball under his arm. The moss-back trick robbed Boston of a run. Burkett and Selbach made remarkable catches after long runs.

Washington scored one run in the first inning on a base on balls by Jones, a two-bagger by Collins, and a line hit to Selbach by Stahl.

Cassidy opened the second inning with a hit, but he was out when Mullen hit to Collins. Knoll advanced Mullen to second with a hit to center, and Kittredge drove a double to left which scored a run. Dineen here made his exit, and Gibson passed Jacobsen to bat by reason of the power behind his double, but Burkett made a wonderful catch, Knoll scoring on the play. Hill was third out on a high fly by Burkett.

With one down Burkett drew his base on balls. Then followed a single by Parent and a rattling double by Selbach to left center, Jones making a grand attempt, but dropping the ball at first. Knoll advanced to second, Hill hit the ball and caught the little shortstop off the base. Collins was third out on a grounder to Cassidy.

The champions again scored in the fifth inning. With one gone Gibson made a hit, but was forced by Burkett's grounder to Mullen. Mullen in his attempt to make a double throw wide to first and Jesse kept on to second scoring on a single by Parent.

Washington had numerous chances to score after the second inning, but could not tally until with two down in the eighth Knoll and Kittredge made their doubles.

Chicago Had Snap
Beating Detroit

CHICAGO, April 29.—The game between Chicago and Detroit Americans today was a one-sided affair, the home team winning by the score of 15 to 3. The game was won in the first two innings, as the home team early got on base, and the visitors were unable to do so.

BIG CROWD SEES
SPRING MEETING
END AT PIMLICO

Eighteen Bookies Have Their Hands Full at the Time.

KILLING IN THE SIXTH

Monochord the Good Thing. Brewer's Handicap Run Off.

BALTIMORE, April 29.—Despite the rain a big holiday crowd, the largest yet this season, saw a good day's sport for the closing of Pimlico's spring meeting. Speculation was heavy.

The largest speculators had early made up their minds to win or go broke on the day, and the eighteen bookmakers had all they could handle in the way of big money.

Good Day's Card.

The Baltimore Brewers' Handicap brought out a good field with half the entries made by local horses. The public believed Bobbie Taylor could win with the majority of the races, the West came to the front more prominently than at any tourney in which the two sections competed.

Washington Teams.

Five relay teams from Washington ran, and two of these won their respective races. The Army and Navy Prep School, under the coaching of ex-Champion Webers, made a most auspicious initial appearance by winning its race in the preparatory school class by fully twenty yards, with the Chestnut Hill Academy, second, and Blight's School, third. Time, 3:50.

Seven Good Mudlarks.

The Brewers' Handicap, fifth on the card, brought out seven good mudlarks, with Mahabar and Red Light equal favorites. Baltimore turned up the winner in the good old campaigner, Arrah-gowon, who was overpowered by the bookies.

The Summaries.

First race—Five furlongs. T. S. Martin, 111 (Miles), 3 to 1, won; Away, 104 (E. Walsh), 5 to 1, second; Judge White, 111 (Henderson), 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:05. Peter Becker and I Told You also ran.

Second race—One mile. Stauket, 110 (E. Walsh), 5 to 1, won; Miles, 83 (Henderson), 4 to 1, second; M. F. Tar-pet, 107 (Miles), 6 to 1, third. Time, 2:15. M. F. Tarpet, 107 (Miles), 6 to 1, third. Time, 2:15.

Third race—Six furlongs. Monochord, 108 (E. Walsh), 8 to 1, won; General Steward, 108 (Christians), 15 to 1, second; Miss Karl, 97 (Walsh), 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:30. Miss Shylock, Cantaloupe, and Tootsey Mack also ran.

WASHINGTON TEAMS
WIN RELAY RACES

Georgetown Law and Army and Navy Preps Victorious in Respective Events at Franklin Field Games.

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—The annual University of Pennsylvania relay carnival was held this afternoon at Franklin Field under unfavorable conditions. Throughout the morning a misty rain put the track in poor shape and after it had cleared up considerably a cold easterly wind blew down the field to the discomfort of the athletes and spectators.

The crowd was slow in arriving, but by the time that the schools and minor college events had been cleared away there were fully 12,000 persons in the seats on the four sides of the vast arena.

East and West.

With the exception of Harvard every university and college of prominence in the East and middle West was represented either in the relay races or the special events, and the gathering of athletes was in many ways the most representative that has ever competed in any one set of games.

The dark blue of Yale was carried to the front in two of the championship relays, the one and two-mile events, and Old Eli was but two yards away when the last Michigan man broke the tape in the four-mile championship of America.

While the East was strong and won the majority of the races, the West came to the front more prominently than at any tourney in which the two sections competed.

Washington Teams.

Five relay teams from Washington ran, and two of these won their respective races. The Army and Navy Prep School, under the coaching of ex-Champion Webers, made a most auspicious initial appearance by winning its race in the preparatory school class by fully twenty yards, with the Chestnut Hill Academy, second, and Blight's School, third. Time, 3:50.

In one of the fastest classes of the carnival the runners of the Georgetown Law School won with a margin of thirty yards, but after the race a protest was filed with Referee Sullivan, which will keep from the local runners, for a time, at least, the gold watches which are awarded to the winning teams.

The Jefferson Medical College captain lodged a complaint against Mulligan, who ran last for the Blue and Gray, on the grounds that the athlete was not properly entered, and pending an investigation of the matter the officials withheld their decision.

Behind at Start.

At the start, Waldron, of New York Law, got the jump on Georgetown, and at the finish the Gothamites led by several yards, with the Blue and Gray second, and the Jefferson Medical School third. Yoder took up the going for the Washington team, but he was unable to gain, and when McGettigan got the touch he was about eight yards behind his rival.

Before he had reached the head of the back stretch McGettigan caught his man, and when he hit the home stretch he opened up until he gave Mulligan a lead of about twelve yards. The last Georgetown runner simply toyed with the other teams, and romped home thirty yards ahead in 3 minutes and 42 seconds.

In Fast Race.

Neither Georgetown nor Gal-laudet were able to get into the money in their races, but the latter team put up a fine race and finished fourth well up in the bunch. The George Washington team was badly handicapped by being on the extreme outside in a seven-team race, but the Washingtonians were contenders through the mile, and finished strong. Strivers, Law, and the Babcock brothers were the men who made up the team.

so smashed the old record of 3 minutes and 35 seconds, by a fifth of a second. In this race the Central High School, of Washington, found the pace too fast, and after Captain Kent and Sherman had finished second in the first and second relays, the last two men were unable to hold on and finished fifth.

In the 100-yard invitation dash Charley Seitz, Georgetown's entrant, got third place with Dick Dear, of Pennsylvania, the former central high school sprinter, second. Hognison, of Chicago, won this race in even time.

Record Not Allowed.

In the discus throw Garrels, of Michigan, heaved the missile 135 feet and one-half inch, which is eighteen inches better than the record, but because of the peculiar construction of the discus used by the Westerner the record will not be allowed.

Sixteen-pound shot put—Won by W. W. Coe, the ex-Oxford man now at Michigan, with a put of 46 feet 13 1/2 inches; second, L. Dunlap, Michigan, 43 feet 4 inches; third, F. D. Porter, Cornell, 42 feet 4 inches.

120-yard hurdles—Final heat won by Amherst, Pennsylvania; second, Eales, Yale; third, M. Catlin, Chicago. Time, 1:54.5 seconds. Amherst won easily, beating out Eales by eight yards, Ashburner, of Cornell, fell at the fourth hurdle.

One mile relay—Won by St. John's College, of Fordham (team, Sweeney, Doherty, Fargah, Cassano); second, Western Maryland College; third, St. John's College, of Annapolis. Time 3 minutes 40.5 seconds.

One-mile relay—Won by Georgetown University (team, Galpin, Chandler, Green, Anderson); second, Western Maryland College; third, Washington and Jefferson College. Time 3 minutes 43.5 seconds.

One mile relay—Won by University of Virginia (team, Bass, Burke, Waples, Seale); second, Washington, of the Pain; third, Dickinson. Time, 3:35.25.

One mile relay—One mile college championship, won by Yale; second, Pennsylvania; third, Chicago. Time, 3:22.45.

Final heat 100-yard dash—Won by Hognison, Chicago; second, Dear, Pennsylvania; third, Seitz, Georgetown. Time, 10 seconds.

Pole vault—Tied at 11 feet 6 inches between Dray, of Yale, and Phillips, of Cornell.

On the jump off for medal Dray won, doing 11 feet 8 1/2 inches. Glocer, of Purdue, and Wilkins of Chicago tied for third at 11 feet 3 inches.

Running high jump—Moffett of Pennsylvania, and Marshall, of Yale, tied at 5 feet 11 inches. They agreed to toss for the place and Moffett won, third, Tooker, Princeton, 5 feet 10 inches.

Hammer throw—Won by H. L. Thomas, of Purdue. Distance 150 feet 3 inches; second, Van Dune, Syracuse, 134 feet 8 inches; third, Harris, Yale, 128 feet 7 inches.

Broad jump—Won by Mount Pleasant, Carolina, distance 23 feet 1 inch; second, Dray, of Yale, second, Dartmouth; third, Columbia; fourth, Pennsylvania. Time, 8:07.35.

Discus throw—Won by Garrels, Michigan, distance, 135 feet 1/2 inch, breaking the world's record of 133 feet 6 1/2 inches, made by Sheridan, of the Pastime Athletic Club; second, Parry, Chicago, 118 feet 3 inches; third, Catlin, Chicago, 112 feet 11 inches.

Garrels' record is not allowed because of the character of discus used.

Four mile college championship—Won by Michigan; second, Yale; third, Cornell; fourth, Pennsylvania. Time, 19 miles 4:38.45, 9:18, 13:52.5, and 13:23.5. Princeton was lapped.

DR. HARBAN TOOK MATCH PLAY CUP
IN FINAL ROUND

Met Expectations in Columbia Golf Club Tournament.

JACKSON GOT HANDICAP

Won From Large Field of Starters—Handsome Prizes Brought Many Contestants.

Yesterday evening marked the close of the Columbia Golf Tournament held on the Columbia links.

During the whole three days the play has been fast and everyone has tried hard for their laurels. Yesterday was the last day of the match game and also the beginning and ending of the handicap medal play. The weather yesterday was all that could be expected, there not being much sun and very little wind. There were altogether seventy men entered in the match and medal play.

As was expected Dr. Lee Harban won several of the prizes. It was a foregone conclusion that he would get the Governor's Cup, and he did not disappoint. A hotly contested match was that between Woodruff and Sullivan, the latter winning out at the last hole.

Out-of-Town Clubs.

In the handicap several clubs from out of town were represented. The Oakmont, Palm Beach, Miami Kanadi, and the Baltimore Country Club. The only out-of-town man to get any prize was Sydney Macdook, of the Palm Beach Golf Club. In the match play he won the second sixteen, beating George Weaver 2 up and 1.

While very few men from Chevy Chase played in the match there was a generous assortment in the handicap. None of the Chevy Chase men took trophies with them when they departed, however.

Handicap Scores.
